LETTER FROM WASHINGTON CITY.

WASHINGTON CITY, D. C., Jan. 24, 1871.

SCHOOL LANDS.

Senator Williams, from the Committee on Public Lands, has reported an amendment to his resolution about the Oregon school lands. It allows the Oregon City Land Company to hold whatever rights they have acquired by virtue of the act of the last Legislature, but secures the balance to the school fund. It reads thus:

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled: That Congress hereby assents to the application of the five hundred thousand acres of land granted to the State of Oregon by the act of Congress approved September 4, 1841, to the support of common schools, as provided in section two, article eight, of the constitution of said State: Provided that nothing herein shall influence the construction or effect of the act admitting said State into the Union as to said application.

IMPROVEMENT OF THE UMPQUA AND WALLAMET RIVERS.

Early in December Senator Corbett introduced a resolution calling on the Secretary of War for the reports of the Engineers, for information as to the surveys of those rivers.

The Secretary of State has at last furnished the information, and it is published by order of the Senate. It appears from the report that the is a small, rapid stream, the navigation of which is obstructed principally by benches or ledges of sandstone rock. It can be made navigable for about seven months in the year, with a depth of four feet above its low water stage, from Scottsburg, 25 miles above its mouth, to Roseburg, about 120 miles further up, for about $22,000.

Major Williamson divides the estimates as follows, for the improvement of the rapids:

Sawyer's rapid	$ 663 00
Hart's "	1,100 00
Mills' "	4,540 00
Delany's "	1,133 00
Crow's "	816 00
Total	$ 8,456 00
Add 20 per cent. for contingencies	1,691 20
	$10,147 20
Clayton's three rapids	10,147 20
Grand total	$20,294 40

The Major closes this part of his report in encouraging words; says he.

"A steamboat can certainly carry freight, with improved navigation, from Roseburg to Scottsburg at $20 per ton, the difference on amount saved on imports of the valley alone, for less than one year, will more than pay for the removal of obstructions to the navigation of the river. It is therefore to the interest of the steamboat company, as well as the people of the valley to remove the rocks."

THE WILLAMETTE.

Lieutenant Huer recommends the following expenditure for the improvement of the Wallamet above the falls at Oregon City:

For improving Bower's Bar	$3,500
" " Humphrey's Bar	700
" " Chitwood's Bar	4,000
" " Beaver and Lone Tree Rapids	6,600
" " Matheny's Bar	1,200
Total	$16,000

"If the Wallamet river," says Lieutenant Huer, "should be improved at Matheny's bar, Beaver and Lone Tree and Chitwood's Bars, the result would be that boats might make the trip from Oregon City to Salem in a few hours less time than at present, and would be able to carry a little more freight; as all the boats plying on this river are owned by one company, it is questionable whether any improvement on the bars by the Government would cause any reduction on the freight tariff. Should the two obstacles above Salem be removed, viz: Humphrey's Rapids and Bowers' Bar, boats might go to Albany and Corvallis during low water."

Senator Corbett saw the Chairman of the Committee on Commerce of the House to-day and he promised to bring it before his committee and recommend the appropriations. If it fails in the House Committee Senator Corbett will try to get it inserted by a recommendation from the Committee on Commerce of the Senate. B. F. D.

Destructive Results of the War.

GRAPHIC STATEMENT OF THE LOSSES CAUSED BY THE WAR, BOTH IN FRANCE AND GERMANY.

[From the San Francisco Commercial Herald.]

The monstrously destructive results of the Franco-Prussian war are graphically described by the Hon. David A. Wells, late Special Commissioner of Internal Revenue. The immediate cost of carrying on warlike operations is estimated at $800,000,000 to Prussia, and twice the amount to France. Industry of all kinds is paralyzed in Germany, and not a single able-bodied mechanic is to be found in many of the towns once noted for industrial operations. The Stumm Iron works, near Saarbruck, which formerly employed 10,000 hands, now contain only 250, and everywhere else a like decadence is noticed. In France, nothing is produced but gunpowder and weapons for the destruction of human life and property.

In Sedan and its immediate vicinity, there were employed previous to the war, in the woolen industry alone, 15,000 workmen; in Rheims and the adjacent districts, 62,000; at Orleans, in woolen, cotton, and hosiery, 30,000; in St. Quentin and the vicinity, in the manufacture of cotton, 75,000; at Strasbourg, in various mechanical industries, 50,000; at Nancy, 20,000; at Metz, 25,000; at Orleans, 30,000; while in Paris the number of persons engaged in manufacturing industries has been estimated at not less than 500,000.

Besides these frightful returns of devastation, property to the value of $4,000,000,000 has been destroyed. and since Mr. Wells wrote his report the work of desolation has been going on with additional vigor and restless energy. Whole towns have been blotted from existence, and large cities smitten with bursting ruin.

The effects upon American trade by such overwhelming disasters are felt in the great decline in the demand for raw cotton, and the lessened returns in gold and merchandise in payment for that article. The German and French cotton factories are closed, and the cessation of labor in the Saarbruck mining region has cut off the Swiss and Belgium supplies of coal and iron ore, compelling a stoppage of factories in those countries. It is extremely doubtful whether the higher prices and increased demand for our cereals and food supplies will compensate for the loss on cotton.

A PERMANENT INVESTMENT.—The Confederate cotton loan, redeemable in gold, by Mr. Jefferson Davis' government, in 1863, is still bought and sold on the London stock exchange. There are £2,435,700 of it in the London market, which cost the subscribers about ninety per cent. of its nominal value. Sir Henry de Houghton is said to have $350,000, which cost him nearly par. Sales were actually made during December at from three and three quarters to five per cent, closing at the highest rate. The only value of the stock, it appears, lies in the hope of the sanguine purchasers that the United States will one day redeem it.

The credit of the Confederate government seems not to stand so high in this country. In Richmond, at last, the people have found out that that organization is not sound. At a sale of the effects of the Exchange bank of Virginia, week before last, a large amount of the Confederate bonds—nominally some millions of dollars—was put up in a lump and sold to the peddlers of curiosities for seventy dollars in greenbacks, say one five hundredth of one per cent. upon its face value. Perhaps this may be regarded as a safe investment for them.—New York Evening Post.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO FEBRUARY 9.

French Minister of the Interior.

BORDEAUX, Feb. 7.—A decree of the 6th, appoints Emmanuel Arago Minister of the Interior.

Dispatches via London.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The Conference met, all present except France. On the adjournment of the Conference it was felt that a pacific solution would be attained.

A Brussels telegraphic correspondent says Odo Russell is instructed to sustain Favre's demand for an extension of the armistice. Its prolongation is expected.

Fifty railway wagons laden with provisions entered Paris on the 3d, inscribed "London Gifts to Paris."

Carnot, commander for the defense of Normandy, has resigned.

The Prussians under Von der Tann occupy the most of Burgundy.

Dispatches via Brussels

BRUSSELS, Feb. 7.—A telegram to the Independent Belge from Lyons says Cremor effected a retreat from Pontarlier to Joux. He was obliged to spike and abandon forty guns.

La Francaise asserts that there is an insurrection in the Province of Constantine, Algeria.

The Times says all information received from Paris shows a longing for peace at any price.

The News says the Parisians will vote to put entire dependence on the good faith of the Germans, as it is impossible to complete negotiations between the meeting of the Assembly and the 19th, when fighting may be resumed. It is said the German preparations in that event to overrun France are formidable.

The German Loan.

BERLIN, Feb. 7.—A decree is issued increasing the amount of the issue of the July loan from eighty to one hundred thousand thalers.

The British Queen's Speech.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—The Queen in her speech to Parliament to-day congratulates that body on the peaceful relations existing with all countries, and prospect of satisfactory settlement of questions with America. She believes the Conference will result satisfactory to the signatory powers; laments the continuance of the war, and trusts the armistice will result in peace. She is anxious to render her friendly offices to the belligerants, and will take every opportunity in her power for restoration of peace and the re-establishment of interrupted trade. She announces the contemplated marriage of Princess Louise and recommends the ballot, university and Scotch educational bill, reorganization of the army on a basis of large increase in the reserves, improved organization of regulars, especially artillery and engineers of a strong militia and an improved volunteer army.

Austrian Army.

VIENNA, Feb. 8.—The Official Gazette says the new ministry is thoroughly united and possesses the Emperor's confidence. It will give free play to all legitimate provincialism, but will make no more compromises with separatism at the expense of unity. It will uphold its constitution and propose laws partially extending legislative and administrative authority in introducing direct elections and enlarging electoral rights.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The Senate Judiciary Committee reported, with amendment, a bill to create the Southern Judicial District of California.

Williams reported and Hale read the resolution of the Oregon Legislature regarding the 15th amendment. It denies the right of Congress to interfere with suffrage within that State, and charges that the amendment is being forced upon the State by the aid of the bayonet. Williams said the resolution was an indication of the position to be assumed and issues to be raised by the Democratic party in the next Presidential election. On motion of Williams the resolution was laid on the table.

There's some surprise and much anxiety at the absence of news of the steamer Tennessee, which sailed three weeks ago with the San Domingo Commissioners. She was not expected to be more than nine or ten days on the outward voyage, and a day longer would have carried a dispatch to Havana, the nearest cable station. The weather, since she sailed, has been very rough, but she is iron and considered one of the staunchest ships in the navy.

A Painful Rumor.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8, 3 P. M.—The Evening Journal's special dispatch from Washington says that dispatches have been received announcing that the United States steamer Tennessee, with the San Domingo Commissioners, foundered at sea with all on board.

OREGON.

David Stearns, of Jacksonville, has a large quantity of grape wine of his own manufacture.

The amount contributed to the German Sanitary Fund by the Germans of Jacksonville is $242 50.

The Umpqua steamboat has not yet reached Roseburg, and probably will not till obstructions are removed from the river.

Railroads.

The subjoined paragraphs which we take from the Philadelphia Press, although containing no new facts are convenient for reference:

"The first railroad improvements of any magnitude in the United States (the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad) was commenced in 1828, and fourteen miles opened for passenger traffic in 1830.

A local railroad from the Quincy granite quarries to the Nuponset river, in Massachusetts, was opened in 1826, and the Mauch Chunk Railroad in Pennsylvania, was opened in 1837.

The first railroads in the United States were operated by horse power and stationary engines. Upon the introduction of an English built locomotive, weighing six tons, on the Mohawk and Hudson River road, in 1830, it was found to be too heavy for the superstructure and was replaced by another of American manufacture, weighing only three tons. Most of the railroads of the United States, constructed within the past twenty years, will sustain with safety locomotives weighing forty tons, and all first class roads are increasing the weight of their locomotives to correspond with the present construction of the superstructures and traffic of their lines.

FOOD MEDICINES.—Dr. Hall relates the case of a man who was cured of biliousness by going without his supper and drinking freely of lemonade. Every morning this patient rose with a wonderful sense of rest and refreshment, and feeling as though the blood had been literally washed, cleansed and cooled by lemonade and the fast. His theory is that food may be used as a remedy for many diseases successfully. For example, he instances cures of spitting blood by the use of salt; epilepsy and yellow fever, watermelons; kidney affections, celery; poison, olive sweet oil; erysipelas, pounded cranberries applied to the parts affected; hydrophobia, onions, etc. So the thing to do in order to keep in good health is to know what to eat, and not what medicine to take.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

German Affairs.

BERLIN, Feb. 8.—The Minister of Finance introduced in the Prussian Diet to-day a bill authorizing a credit of fifty million thalers, six millions thereof to be in treasury bonds payable on the 1st of July next. The Minister in his remarks ascribed the necessity for this credit to the fact that the new Empire was yet without constitutional representation. It was stated in the same session of the Diet that members for North Schleswig preferred to resign rather than take the constitutional oath.

The French Desire Peace.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—The French provincial press generally urge peace.

M. Hendle, Secretary of Jules Favre, has been appointed Prefect of the Department of Nord. On assuming the office at Lille to-day, he issued a proclamation insisting on liberty to all parties in the election to vote for whom they pleased, and declaring that the nation steeped in misfortune can be regenerated by liberty.

Provisions in Paris are scarce. There is not sufficient flour to last till the 8th.

FRIDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 10, 1871.

Adjusting Our Boundaries.

Some of our contemporaries are recalling the fact that the Oregon Legislature at its recent session addressed a memorial to Congress praying that the county of Walla Walla, in Washington Territory, might be annexed to Oregon. Little or no notice was taken of this memorial at the time it was adopted. Its presentation in Congress has, however, reawakened a recollection of it; though we do not think there is any probability that Congress will take the action in the case which our Legislature has asked for.

Of course there was but one purpose in the minds of the Democratic majority in the Legislature when this memorial was adopted. That purpose was to secure, if possible, an accession to the strength of their party. Walla Walla county, like all the districts east of the Cascade mountains, is filled up with a class of men who found it necessary to decamp from Missouri, on account of their secession proclivities, during the rebellion. Such persons can be relied on to vote Democratic tickets at all times and under all circumstances. In the eastern counties of our State they are quite numerous, and their votes have given the Democratic party control of the State offices and the Legislature. But their numbers are not increasing, though there is a rapid increase of population in most of the western counties. In the last election the contest in the State was very close, and the meagre majorities obtained by the Democratic candidates were unpleasantly suggestive of a complete reverse in future elections. With the Republican vote increasing in the western counties, and no increase of the Democratic strength in the [illegible] east, there was naturally some fear among the majority in the recent Legislature that a similar majority would not be there at future sessions. And out of this came the idea of obtaining a reinforcement by the acquisition of Walla Walla. A popular majority of three or four hundred in Walla Walla county might enable the Democrats to elect the next Governor; and two Senators and three or four Representatives from that county might enable them to retain a sure majority in the Legislature. This was the motive that prompted their action. It is for these considerations that they demanded the acquisition of Walla Walla county.

[illegible] Republicans should follow the Democratic fashion of acting in all cases with reference to the manner in which their party was to be affected, they would, of course, oppose this measure strictly on party grounds [illegible] the obviousness of the fact that [illegible] to secure a lease [illegible] their opponents for party [illegible] some weight in deciding their [illegible] action. But for ourselves we oppose the proposition on higher grounds. We do not mean to deny that we have the same natural inclination to oppose it that we have to oppose all measures that the Democrats want to carry solely for the advantage of their own party. But we do not know that we should consider the advantage to [illegible] them to be so very great as to [illegible] other possible considerations. The objection we have to offer is, in our judgment, an insuperable one, and goes much further than any considerations of temporary gain or loss for a political party.

It is well known, indeed every observing and candid person will admit, that there is a diversity of interest between the districts lying east and those lying west, of the Cascade mountains. Their "incompatibility," so to speak, is apparent. It manifests itself at every session of our Legislature. There is a dissimilarity of climate and of soil. The industries by which the western portion of the State is to thrive are different from those by which the eastern portion is to prosper. Representatives from the eastern districts cannot comprehend the wants of this portion of the State; at all events they have never yet comprehended them. Ever since the eastern counties were organized there has been a feeling of antagonism between them and the counties of the west. This has of late grown much more apparent, and there are proofs of it in the mutterings of the eastern counties over the alleged neglect of their interests by the western part of the State. There is no such feeling as this between the southern counties and those of the Willamette valley. The fact is, the Cascade mountains are a great natural barrier, and the conditions of social and industrial life are not the same on opposite sides of it. To annex Walla Walla to Oregon would be to aggravate this clashing of interests. It would increase the antagonism between the two sections, and bring no results to counterbalance it. Oregon would be much more homogeneous if her boundaries were extended to Puget Sound, and her counties east of the Cascade mountains incorporated into a political division lying wholly on that side. If any change is to be made in the boundaries of this State and of Washington Territory, it should be this. Corresponding sections which never should have been disunited would thereby be brought together.

No doubt there are those who would urge that the proportions of a State so constructed would be wanting in geographical symmetry; but the construction of a State is not a problem of mensuration. "In politics," says Burke, "the most fallacious of all things is geometrical demonstration." Simply to organize a political community in the form of a square, covering a given area of territory, requires nothing but an ordinary land surveyor, with his chain, sight and theodolite. But to found and build a political community on a politic principle requires something different. Take the geometrical basis for it, and it is impossible that innumerable local inconveniences shall not arise. The physical geography of this country accurately and distinctly marks its natural divisions. Those parts of it which are similar in configuration, in climate, in industries, in wants, and in the means to be pursued for their growth and development should be brought together. This may not be done, but it would be greatly to the advantage of all concerned if it were done. The annexation of Walla Walla to Oregon, instead of helping the matter, would only increase the inconvenience. If our boundaries are to be adjusted let it be done on an intelligent and politic principle. The New York Tribune fully comprehends our case when it says that in the division of this country, "the line Germani have been drawn north and south."

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Diplomatic Correspondence.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—The following from Secretary Fish to the British Minister is the conclusion of the Granville-Fish correspondence:

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.

SIR: I acknowledge the receipt of your note of the 26th, and have laid the note before the President, who shares with Her Majesty's Government an appreciation of the importance of a friendly and complete understanding between the two Governments. With reference to the subjects specially suggested to be taken into consideration by the proposed joint commission he fully recognizes the friendly spirit which has prompted the proposal. He is of opinion, however, that without the adjustment of a class of questions not alluded to in your note, the proposed high commission would fail to establish permanent relations and sincere and substantial friendship between the two Governments, which in common with Her Majesty's Government he desires should prevail. He thinks that the removal of the differences which arose during the rebellion in the United States, and which have existed since then, growing out of acts committed by several vessels which have given rise to claims generally known as the Alabama claims, will also be essential to the restoration of cordial and amicable relations between the two Governments. He desires me to say that should Her Majesty's Government accept this view of this matter and assent that this subject also may be treated of by the proposed commission, and may thus be put in way of final and desirable settlement, this Government will with much pleasure appoint high commissioners on the part of the U. S. to meet those who may be appointed on behalf of Her Majesty's government, and will spare no efforts to secure at the earliest moment, a just and amicable arrangement of all questions which now unfortunately stand in the way of an entire and enduring friendship between the two nations. I have the honor to be with the highest consideration, sir,

Your very obedient servant,
HAMILTON FISH.

To Sir Edward Thornton.

The British Minister's Reply.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1, 1871.

SIR: With reference to that part in which you state that the President thinks the removal of differences which arose during the rebellion in the United States, and which have existed since then, growing out of acts committed by several vessels, which have given rise to several claims generally known as the Alabama claims, will be also essential to the restoration of cordial and amicable relations between the two governments, I have submitted to Earl Granville the opinions expressed by the President of the United States, the friendship of which I beg you to believe I fully appreciate. I am apprised by His Lordship to state that it would give Her Majesty's government satisfaction if the Alabama claims were submitted to consideration. Her government has proposed that the questions relating to British possessions in North America should be discussed, provided that all other claims, both British and American, arising out of acts committed during the civil war in this country are similarly referred to the same commission. The expressions made use of in the name of the President in your above mentioned note with regard to the Alabama claims, convince me that the Government of the United States will consider it of importance that the causes of dispute between the two countries should also and at the same time be done away with, and I ask that you will enable me to convey to my Government the assent of the President, in addition to which they thus propose as the duties of high commission, and which cannot fail to make it more certain that its labors will lead to the removal of all differences between the two countries.

Fish to Sir Edward Thornton.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3, 1871.—I have laid your note before the President, and he has directed me to express the satisfaction with which he has received intelligence that Earl Granville has authorized you to state that Her Majesty's Government has accepted the views of this Government as to the disposition to be made of the so-called Alabama claims. He also directs me to say with [illegible] to the remainder of your note, that if there be other and further claims of British subjects or American citizens growing out of acts committed during the recent civil war in this country, he assents to the propriety of their reference to the same high commission, but he suggests this high commission shall consider only such claims of this description as may be presented by the governments of the respective claimants, at an early day to be agreed upon by the commission.

NEVADA.

VIRGINIA, Feb. 9.—In the Senate to day a joint resolution was introduced in relation to the annexation of Owyhee county, Idaho.

Cost of Holding Arizona.

There are continued reports of Indian atrocities in Arizona. But it appears that the Government has an impression that it would be better to discontinue military occupation of the Territory and content ourselves with nominal sovereignty over it, on the ground that it is very costly and unprofitable to maintain military occupation there. A Washington dispatch to the New York Herald gives the following on this point:

> With reference to the continued military occupation of Arizona, the War Department considers it questionable policy to retain possession, at an immense yearly cost, of what is represented to be an arid desert, fatal, except in isolated spots, to life and vegetation and affording no adequate means of support to its sparse population other than hauling supplies or producing them to a small extent for the troops, ostensibly kept there to guard the settlers against Indians, but practically to enable the people to live off the Government. It is admitted that if the troops were withdrawn the settlers would leave, not only for fear of the savage Indians, but because they would have no market for their products, scanty as they are, or any employment for teams. Yet the public Treasury would be a gainer by compelling them to go where they could support themselves. The cost of the military occupation of Arizona is about $2,000,000 a year. The taxes paid by the Territory are not worthy of mention, while its mineral products are said to be of very small account.

The revelations of the Fisk-Lawlor scandal in New York are somewhat remarkable for the light they throw on Democratic political management in that city. Fisk, it is well known, has openly espoused the cause of the Tammany ring. In the revelations in the Lawlor affair he boasts himself as the owner of the whole judiciary of the city. He also controls Gov. Hoffman, and with other thieves and scoundrels dictates the course of the Democratic party of the city and State. This is the system which they want to transfer to Washington and make national instead of having it confined to one locality. For this they are laying plans for the next Presidential election.

GOV. WOODS.—The Washington correspondence of the New York Tribune has this notice of Gov. Woods:

George L. Woods of Oregon, whose name was sent into the Senate, to-day, as Governor of Utah, is a man who has been prominent in the politics of his State during the past ten years. He was a Presidential Elector in 1864, elected Governor of Oregon in 1866, and served as a speaker in the political campaigns of California, New Hampshire and Connecticut in 1867 and 1868. His appointment has been made at the request of many friends, East and West, who represent him as a man of talent and unimpeached character.

There are ten savings banks in San Francisco. The amount of deposits during the last six months was $31,289,550. This indicates a remarkable degree of prosperity among the industrial classes, notwithstanding the cry of demagogues about taxes, insufficient wages, Chinese competition, and all that sort of clap-trap.

Alexander Caldwell, of Leavenworth, has been elected to the United States Senate from Kansas for the full term of six years from the 4th March next. He will succeed Ross, one of the "seven" who voted to acquit Andrew Johnson. It is a striking fact that not one of the "seven" has attained any political success since their votes on that occasion.

German Celebration in San Francisco

On the evening of the 30th January, the Germans of San Francisco made a great demonstration in honor of the capture of Paris. There was an immense procession, with fireworks, music, transparencies and speeches. The Turners led in the demonstration. At ten o'clock they filed into the Metropolitan Theater, and were followed by the various societies and as many of the crowd as could gain admission. We quote from the Chronicle's report

As soon as all were seated, the Turners sang "Die Wacht am Rhein." Dr. Loehr, the orator of the evening, stepped on the stage amid the cheers of the audience, and was introduced, when he spoke as follows: German fellow-citizens—The Empire is achieved; the oracle has gone forth; the Empire which now stands before the eyes of an astonished world is not an Empire of glory, it is and of German freedom; the Emperor of Germany is not the old William, with his gray hairs, who lives in Berlin; it is the free people of Germany, the civilization of nations; it is the right; it is the truth.

THE WAR JUST ENDED

was not a war which began yesterday or a week ago. It has existed for years, and is one in which the old German Emperors have been engaged for years, in which the German spirit of

FREEDOM AND PROGRESS

were actively at work. A little less than two hundred years ago a man held Court in the Tuileries, before whom all Europe bowed. He formed a compact with our enemies, and sent his spies to Berlin and Vienna to watch every movement made for liberty and right, and to make our sufferings more intolerable; insulted and trampled on our Kings. It is only now that

WE HAVE FREED OURSELVES

from the tyranny of France and the black band of Jesuits. The war did not spring from vain desires of power, but from a feeling of enmity toward the superstition which was chaining down and hampering free thought in our land, and keeping up from our proper sphere. American writers have been clamoring against us, and crying that we are against progress and against France because she wants to be a republic. We do not fight against republics. We want them, and we also want

GERMANY AND TRUE PRINCIPLES.

We are for France, and for all people who are in earnest when the world's progress is in the balance. The war is not to be ended with powder and ball, but with the weapons of the spirit and the weapons of free and untrammeled ideas. We have much to do yet for Germany, and must show ourselves worthy of the achievements of our heroes by building on the foundation laid by them. Turners know that exercise is essential to the physical welfare of the body, and all men know that without mental culture we are unfit to claim the rights of men. We must, therefore, do all that lies in our power to convince the world that Germany is the custodian of the rights of men. Dr. Loehr concluded amid tumultuous applause, and was followed by who said: I am not prepared for a speech, but yet I will say a few words. It requires but little at this time to work up the enthusiasm of a German to a fever heat. I will but point to Paris, and tell you that and assert that France is free free from the darkness which for centuries enshrouded her. No idea but to kill and to die was the idea of the Frenchman, but the mote has been taken from his eye. He has given us two provinces, and has learned a lesson which he will not soon forget. We are Germans, not Greeks; we subdued the barbarians in taking Paris. If France will live with us peaceably hereafter, I shall be the first to fraternize with them.

A FIRM AND MODEL GOVERNMENT

H. HEYNEMANN,

SHE HAS FALLEN,

WE WILL PAVE THE ROAD

to the true civilization of mankind, and will live in peace with all our neighbors. Precious blood has been lost upon the battle-field, and we have conquered, but let us not boast too much of our prowess. Long live Germany and peace.

As soon as Dr. Heynemann finished, Leo Eloesser reminded the audience of the lateness of the hour, and spoke of the necessity of remembering the widows and orphans in the Fatherland, when the meeting adjourned.

Moses E. Flanegan, a Democratic politician of note, who formerly cut quite a figure in San Francisco and was private Secretary to Senator Broderick, died a few days ago in New York.

Gov. Palmer says he will probably decline the appointment as Indian Agent at Siletz, although he has not fully made up his mind yet.

A "calf" in Yamhill county, 13 months old, weighs over 1,400 pounds. It belongs to D. B. Crawford, near McMinnville.

At 7½ o'clock.
Subject—"Our Mother Tongue."
The language of a nation is the accumulation of the experience, the wisdom and the genius of a nation. "The heart of a people is its Mother Tongue," and it is only by learning that Mother Tongue that you can know the heart. It is only while listening to the "thoughts that breathe and the words that burn" from the lips of her poets and her orators, her historians and her dramatists that you can feel that heart-beating responsive to your own. Thus we have an argument of great power in favor of studying one's own Language, and therefore, to the American the study of the English Language is deeply interesting and important, not only for its great intrinsic merits, but also for its uses and applications to the great purposes of life.
Its History, its present structure and elements; its Contents, the literature of ages; its Speech, the Mother Tongue of increasing millions. Its copiousness and flexibility, its adaptedness and generosity qualify it for wider diffusion, and the people who fondly call it "Mother Tongue" is the most free, intelligent and enterprising among the nations. What then shall be its destiny? It is a sacred trust to be shielded from abuse and transmitted intact and pure.

"Old Saxon words, old Saxon words!
Your spell are round me thrown;
Ye haunt our daily paths and dreams
With music all your own;
Each one in its own power a host,
The fond remembrance brings
The earliest, brightest aspect back
Of life's familiar things."

Dr. Lindsley takes a high rank as a ministerial orator. His Sabbath evening lectures are attracting a large and rapidly increasing audience. He has a rich, well modulated voice, and his style of eloquence is forcible, convincing, and often fervid and impassioned, abounding in illustration, metaphor and ornament—every expression being a fine specimen of "Our Mother Tongue."
THE VIEUXTEMPS BROTHERS
Have kindly volunteered to furnish music on the evening of each Lecture.

LOST CHILD—Yesterday as a gentleman was walking out in the neighborhood of Stark and Tenth streets he came upon a little child, about one and a half years old, alone on the sidewalk, and some distance from any occupied dwelling. The little wanderer seemed glad to find company, and tried to follow, but soon coming to a crosswalk street where the mud was deep, it stopped. The gentleman at once concluded the child was lost, and proceeded to notify the occupants of the nearest house, who took the little would be waif in Going back into the suburbs of the city a considerable distance, the gentleman at length found the home of the lost child, and informed its parents where it had found refuge. Many parents are too thoughtless about their little ones, and many accidents occur to helpless infancy through culpable negligence.

PASSENGERS FOR PORTLAND.—The N P. T. Co's propeller steamship Idaho, sailed from San Francisco for Portland yesterday The following is her passenger list W Borrows and son, D McDonald, J Christman, Mrs Tilleston, Mrs Tisson J Wilke, W K Lear, W Tisson and wife, L J Davis, S W Percival, Mrs A O Servenay and 3 children Dr J B White, U S A, J C Scantling, U S A, E Conston, S A Hilser, H P Lay, B O Serrance, D Nolan, H M Jones, J Hume, S Hoyt, E Eldridge, L C Gardner, F Harris, F Schiel, wife and child, B W Levens, Julius Seltz, Rev J Deardorf, Mrs Handricks, Miss J Johnson and brother, W N Peterson, S O'Connor and 75 others.

[illegible] OF LARCENY—Chas E Bean, late [illegible] the passenger trains of the Oregon [illegible] railroad, was tried yesterday in [illegible] W[illegible] Court on a charge of petit [illegible] committed by embezzling passenger [illegible] following jurors were chosen S [illegible] Labbe M Wormser, G W. Traver and [illegible] Ryan who, after hearing the evidence and being out an hour and a quarter, returned [illegible] guilty as charged in the complaint. The Justice reserved judgment till tomorrow The defendant gave notice of a motion for a new trial and arrest of judgment.

[illegible]—Mr Noah Lambert [illegible] on from the Treasury Department [illegible] furnish cut stone for the [illegible] at this city having been accepted [illegible] has been approved by the Department. The stone are to be quarried at Bellingham Bay and transported to this city, and the contract amounts to $93,900 The Superintendent, Mr [illegible] John, has instructed the Contractor to commence the work immediately, and proceed with it as rapidly as possible.

[illegible] A meeting has been called for the purpose of organizing a society with the above title the meeting to be held at the Chapel of the Portland Academy and Female Seminary on Saturday the 18th inst, at 2 P M. All Trustees and members of Oregon Conference schools as members of the Conference, and any others wishing to join are invited to be present and participate in the organization.

THE SUBSIDY—Yesterday the balance of the [illegible] subsidy was raised, and a telegram was sent to Mr Holladay informing him of the fact. No doubt we shall see work commenced on the west side road within two months. Our contemporaries who have been predicting so oracularly as the money would not be pledged will now have a chance to revise their opinions There has been at no time any doubt about it in Portland

FROM BELOW—We learn from the Purser of the California that the Ajax was to go out yesterday

There were no vessels in sight outside when the California came in over the bar

The [illegible] landed at Kalama fourteen passengers from Puget Sound

The bark Vallindary was yesterday reported to have arrived in the Columbia river from Honolulu

LECTURE—Dr Lindsley of this city will deliver the third lecture of the Young Men's Christian Association course at Philharmonic Hall, next Tuesday evening His subject will be "Our Mother Tongue" There is matter in this for an interesting lecture and we have no doubt the [illegible] gentleman will do full justice to the subject.

UNPARALLELED INCIDENT.—A well known merchant in this city lost an umbrella a day or two since and yesterday it was returned to him [illegible] We challenge the "oldest inhabitant" [illegible] any other man" to furnish a parallel [illegible] surely the world is in a process of regeneration

[illegible] The electrals had a musical festival at one of their rookeries on Second street last night The strains, as they floated out on the [illegible] night air were about as melodious as the voice of an enraged tom-cat with a dumb bell accompaniment

PORTLAND ACADEMY.—The next term of this institution will begin on Monday next, without any vacation between the closing and the approaching terms. The closing exercises of the present term will take place on Saturday evening.

ERROR.—The resolution introduced by Mr. [illegible] in the Council Wednesday night, in relation to widening Second street, was not adopted, as our report had it, but was referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

COMMISSIONER OF DEEDS.—George H. Durham Deputy Sheriff, has received appointments as commissioner of deeds from the Governors of North Carolina and Washington Territory.

THE WEST SIDE LOCKS—Plans and specifications for the construction of the proposed locks on the west side of the river at Oregon City may be seen at Goldsmith Bros. in this city.

GRASS GROWING—The south hill sides show the effect of the moderate weather and the increasing heat of the sun. Many spots show quite green and spring like

AMUSEMENTS.

ORO FINO THEATER.—Leo Hudson still has a house full. As we predicted the French Spy went off nicely last night. This evening, in order to enable the company to prepare a new drama, they will repeat "Rookwood, or Dick Turpin's Ride to York" The play will bear the repetition.

BELL CADETS' BALL.—There was a good attendance at the armory last evening, upon the first annual ball of the company, and the ladies and gentlemen enjoyed a pleasant evening

CONCERT—The Vieuxtemps' concert for the benefit of the Catholic orphanage will take place at Philharmonic Hall this evening. The programme will be one of the best yet presented.

HIBERNIAN BALL—The Portland Hibernian Benevolent Society will give their Eleventh Annual Ball on the evening of March 17th—St Patrick's Day

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The bark Webfoot arrived at San Francisco yesterday, from Portland

The next term of the Fourth Circuit Court will begin on Monday, the 13th inst.

There are now four sea going vessels in port—the Madawaska, Tenax Propositi, Live Yankee and Rosedale

Work on the railroad ferry landing at North Portland, has been resumed, and is being rapidly pushed forward

The Willamette Iron Works were yesterday engaged in making repairs to the dredger's lifting chain.

The steamer Carrie, from Vancouver, delivered on board the bark Live Yankee about 40,000 shaved hazel hoops, for San Francisco.

BOARD OF DELEGATES

THE FIRST MEETING OF THE NEW BOARD—ORGANIZATION—ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The Board of Delegates of the Portland Fire Department met at the Police Court room at 8 o'clock last evening

UNK WEED REMEDY!

OR

RHEUMATIC CURE.

HISTORY:

THIS REMEDY IS COMPOSED OF THE ACTIVE principle of the Unk Weed, Kog.—Thaspium, Cordatum, Origanis Lat—Indigenous to Oregon—Grows most abundantly and perfectly in Washington county

PROPERTIES, &c:

It contains an active volatile principle extracted by Ether and a bitter Tonic principle.

Medical Properties and Uses.

It is the most Sure and Speedy Cure for Rheumatism Rheumatic Gout and Rheumatic Pains of all kinds that has ever been introduced in the Materia Medica The Unk Weed Remedy as prepared by us, in consequence of the existing bitter principle, possesses the necessary virtue of being a POWERFUL TONIC!

Promoting the Appetite and Invigorating the whole Digestive Apparatus, thus building and strengthening the system, while at the same time the volatile principle, being absorbed in the blood, acts specifically on the Rheumatic Poison, removing it from the circulation and system

There are few remedies known to the Medical profession, which will remove the Rheumatic poison from the blood but whose action is so powerful in depressing the system of the already enfeebled Rheumatic patient, that their use has to be abandoned before specific effects are obtainable Hence the want of success in treating this prevalent and in consequence, heretofore incurable disease. Unlike these Medicines, already known, the

"Unk weed Remedy"

Though producing as powerful and as active effects on the blood and system in removing the Rheumatic Poison also possesses a strong Tonic and recuperating element which admits of its continued use even in the most delicate and debilitated Thus we have the combination for the first time of these two necessary elements in the one remedy which accounts for its superior and never failing curative effects in

RHEUMATISM, RHEUMATIC GOUT

BURNING OF AN INDIAN PRINCE AT FLORENCE.

[Florence Correspondence Cincinnati Gazette.]

Yesterday an affair of unusual occurrence took place, which was no less than the burning of an Indian Prince. His Highness Rajah Murahaja, of Kolapore, came to Florence for his health, but unfortunately for him and luckily for those who had never seen a Buddhist funeral, he died on the 30th of November. He was Prince over 600,000 inhabitants of Hindostan, and was traveling with sixteen Indians and four Englishmen. He left his own country to travel for the purpose of education and pleasure. After his death immediate application was made to the authorities for permission to burn the body. After a few of the inevitable red tape objections had been smoothed away, the permission was obtained, and a place at the end of the "Casine," the park adjoining Florence, was assigned to the swarthy applicants, on condition that the ceremony should be conducted by night and with the utmost secresy. However, the clairvoyant reporters, correspondents, and about 500 other persons heard of the affair, and went to see the show. According to the Indian religion the ceremony was to take place by the side of a running stream, so that the spot chosen was in reality at the confluence of the Arno and the Mugnane. Soon after 2 A. M., the body of his Highness arrived.

A pile of wood had been erected about six feet long, three wide and three high. The body was then placed upon the ground, and a gold coin placed upon the mouth. He was dressed in red satin and silk. A long tunic or toga reached nearly to the knees, while red stockings and boots completed the dress. On his breast there was an immense number of jeweled orders, and around his neck there was a necklace of very large pearls, each worth a fortune within itself. Our Protestant idea is that we cannot carry anything into the next world with us, but the Indian doctrine seems to differ, [illegible] requires that the body shall be burned [illegible] the jewels on his person. His [illegible] with a black and red turban. [illegible] was then wrapped in a large sheet [illegible] with quantities of perfumes, and [illegible] funeral pile with the feet to the east. The attendants then commenced a series of unintelligible motions, putting on their [illegible] and taking them off, bowing and stretching their arms in every possible direction, and repeating numerous short prayers in Indian, which I will omit for several reasons. Then they throw more perfume on the wood and much fat. Then they put more coins on the breast and in the hands; then more turban shifting, more prayers and pounds of camphor, then sandal wood and [illegible] interspersed with gestures, then straw, [illegible] then more fat, then more gestures, [illegible] short sermon, which I will also omit; and finally [illegible] torches were applied, and the whole burst into a fierce flame. At the same time the plank on which the body had been borne was thrown into the Arno. The Indians continued to throw perfumes into the fire during the burning, and offer more prayers. At [illegible] o'clock A. M. water was poured on the pile, and the ashes of the body were religiously collected in a porcelain vase, while all the rest of the materials that remained were thrown into the river by two Indians, who waded out to the middle. Earth was then laid over the spot in the shape of a heart, and little vases of rice were placed around it. All the Indians then prayed with their faces toward the east, after which they went away, bearing the cinerary urn. The ashes will be thrown into the Ganges, so that the Prince may enjoy a thousand years of happiness. Thus the necessary rites were performed, but if the Prince had not been so obliging as to die in Florence, but in his own country, the ceremonies would have been most magnificent, accompanied [illegible] a cow adorned with flowers and a [illegible] Hindostanee emblems.

[illegible] Stearns, of New London, in his [illegible] keeps a drug store. A gentleman [illegible] day purchased a cigar of the Doctor, and, lighting it, began to smoke.

"Please do not smoke in the store," said Dr. S., politely, "it is against our rule."

"But you sell cigars," rejoined the gentleman—"sell 'em to smoke, don't you?"

"Yes, sir, we sell cigars," replied the doctor a little sharply—"and we sell physic; but we don't allow it to operate in the store."

Cardinal Antonelli has forbidden the publication of the Almanack of the Holy See for 1871. The almanack contains the names of all the functionaries of the Pontifical Government and Court of Rome, and, if published, the list would have to be omitted, a virtual recognition of the fall of the temporal power; so a way is found out of the difficulty by suppression.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

PORTLAND, Thursday, Feb. 9, 1871.

Gold at New York, 111¾.

Legal tenders, at Portland, 90c buying; and 91c selling.

Exchange on San Francisco—coin, ¼ of 1 per cent.; currency, ¾ per cent.

Exchange on New York, 1¼ per cent.; telegraph transfers, 1½ per cent.

U. S. 5-20 bonds quotable at 108½@111 for 1862 and 1867.

Rates of interest unchanged, at 1@1¼ per cent.

Oregon Bounty and Relief bonds, 85a87½c; State warrants, 91c@par.

Money matters are in a satisfactory condition, generally speaking. There has been no time for several years when country bills were paid more promptly than now. There has been and is now a considerable demand for real estate investments. There is certainly no surplus in the country, nor any real scarcity—just a fair balance between supply and demand.

The jobbing merchandise business of the city is quite fair for this time of the year, a season when we have always been accustomed to see but little doing. The hardware business, particularly, is much better than has been usual in past years during the winter months. Our quotations mostly remain unchanged. The season is rapidly approaching, however, when a revision of the lists and prices of agricultural and dry goods will be demanded.

The produce market is quiet, and transactions are confined mostly to making up cargoes of grain and flour for foreign markets. Wheat has received a check in its upward tendency, and recent telegraphic advices from Liverpool have the effect to render the market weak, even at a reduction of five cents per bushel. It is not now probable that a higher price can be reasonably looked for. Flour is quiet at the quotations heretofore given. Bacon of all sorts dull and weak.

LAND DEPARTMENT

OREGON & CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMPANY.

SALEM, OREGON, October 22, 1870.

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT IS MADE FOR information of all concerned:

First—Congress has granted to the Company all alternate sections of the public lands designated by odd-numbers within a distance of thirty miles on each side of the railroad, excepting lands to which a pre-emption or homestead claim had attached prior to the withdrawal by Government of the lands co-terminus with the first division of located line from East Portland to Jefferson, at 12 M. February 16, 1870. The second division of located line from Jefferson to a point six miles south of Roseburg, May, 1870, and from the last named point to the California line, 1870.

Second—Persons who have valid pre-emption or homestead claims to any tract on an odd numbered section can purchase the same from the Railroad Company at the Government price of $1 25 per acre in greenbacks, and upon very favorable terms, if they so desire, by filing an abandonment of their claim in the U. S. Land Office, blanks for which will be furnished by the Land Agent of the Company. Such purchase from the Company has these advantages over a purchase from the Government: The party can leave the land if necessary; he can sell the land or mortgage it; he is saved the payment of lawyers' or agents' fees, and expenses of witnesses to go to the Land Office to "prove up" his claim; he can get his title perfect in less time, and he can buy on credit at a low rate of interest.

Third—No sales will be made by the Company until the land is listed over to it by the United States Land Commissioner and Secretary of the Interior.

Purchasers are thus assured that the title they obtain is perfect.
